

Jean R. Desgrottes Jr.

To whom it may concern,

I'm a professional with over 7 years experience in graphics, web design and web development. I'm constantly learning and improving my skill set by researching and applying the best modern practices in design and development.

Being in the tech industry and knowing that it is ever changing and shifting. This pushes me to stay up to par with the latest and greatest tools and standards e.g Affinity Suite, Sketch, CSS3, HTML5 and ECMAScript 6. I love being faced with new challenges and I take them as occasions to further my capabilities and experience.

Creating pixel perfect design and developing carefully constructed code is what I aspire to do with every project that I take part in. My passion for design and code goes beyond income and earnings. It is something I merely love to do whether I am commissioned to, or not. I believe that this is what causes me to excel in my field and why I would be a significant candidate for any opportunity.

Best,

Jean R. Desgrottes Jr.
